What could a child be learning about “math” by playing with these blocks?

What could a child be learning about “science” by playing with these blocks?
What could a child be learning about “pre-reading skills” by playing with these blocks?

What could a child be learning about “social skills” by playing with these blocks?
What could a child be learning about “physical development” by playing with these blocks?

What could a child be learning about “creativity and problem solving” by playing with these blocks?